This is a bread book for people who really, really love bread in all its wondrous forms—but who also might be intimidated by the word “starter.” The recipes, tips, and tricks in 30 Breads to Bake Before You Die come from expert dough workers and bread magicians who’ve put in the hours of kneading, proofing, stretching, folding, and baking to perfect these recipes, all in the oh-so-noble name of good bread.

Get ready to bake your way through some of the most mouthwatering bread recipes, including:

- ▶ Beginner’s Sourdough from Maurizio Leo (The Perfect Loaf)
- ▶ Focaccia from Joanne Chang (Flour Bakery)
- ▶ Bagels from Andrew Dana (Call Your Mother Deli)
- ▶ Croissants from Dominique Ansel
- ▶ Ultimate Dinner Rolls from Tessa Arias (Handle the Heat)
- ▶ Matzah from Duff Goldman
- ▶ Baguette from Shawn Bergin (Bakery Four)
- ▶ Pita from Alon Shaya
- ▶ And so much more!

Because who has time for the third-best bagel recipe or so-so sourdough? Not you! So bake up these awesome, accessible breads now. Before you die.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Allyson Reedy is a carb-loving food writer and restaurant critic in Denver, Colorado. When she’s not taste-testing or checking out new restaurants for a story, she’s probably tripping over her pug in her home kitchen while stressing over sourdough. Read more from her and bake up killer desserts in 50 Things to Bake Before You Die: The World’s Best Cakes, Pies, Brownies, Cookies, and More from Your Favorite Bakers, Including Christina Tosi, Joanne Chang, and Dominique Ansel.

As the millennial generation moves into their parenting years, posting on social media about milestones, memories, and good times is almost second nature. Families can seem “perfect,” and some parenting methods are heralded as “the best.” However, behind closed doors, many parents and caregivers struggle greatly no matter what method or combination of parenting methods they use. There are points where it seems like you’ve tried everything. Maybe it even feels hopeless. That’s where A Parent’s Guide to Self-Regulation comes in.

This book will demystify the concepts of dysregulation and parental self-regulation, and will normalize prioritizing these skills for parents before bringing the concepts into parenting children. With this book’s step-by-step framework, you will learn how to mitigate tough parenting moments, develop self-regulatory skills, and read real accounts from other parents. From addressing societal myths about dysregulated parenthood to offering tips on re-parenting yourself for better regulation and everything in between, this book will serve as both a friendly companion and a source of solid, evidence-based advice.

A Parent’s Guide to Self-Regulation is written by Dr. Amber Thornton, a clinical psychologist and mother of two, who knows what it feels like to struggle with dysregulation and self-regulation as a parent.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Dr. Amber Thornton is a licensed clinical psychologist and strong advocate for the mental health and well-being of parents. Dr. Amber loves writing and creating content online that will speak to the everyday struggles of motherhood and parenthood.

Dr. Amber holds a BS in psychology from Ohio State University and a PsyD in clinical psychology from Wright State University School of Professional Psychology. She’s an Ohio native who has made Washington, DC, her home since 2018. She loves spending time with her husband and two children.

The main character of The Cloud discovers one day that he's being followed...by a cloud! It starts out small, but soon it grows and grows until all of a sudden, the boy is swallowed up by it. When things seem to be at their worst and the cloud bursts into a rainstorm, the boy is able to summon up his resilience and use it to deal with the cloud in a positive way.

This book has no words, providing parents and kids with the opportunity to interact with the illustrations and interpret the story in the way that they want. From dealing with a loss in the family or hard-to-handle emotions like fear and anxiety, readers will be able to create a story that relates back to their own circumstances and will also be able to talk about solutions that make the most sense for them.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Julia Konner, MPH, is a 28-year-old former collegiate Division 1 student-athlete and coach with over 16 years of competing as an artistic gymnast. Through her many years as a club athlete, collegiate athlete, and then unanimously-voted team captain, she has faced her own adversities through injuries, body image issues, and ways that the time requirements of training 30+ hours/week impacted her social life. Over the years she has helped countless young and college-aged athletes navigate the complicated, arduous, and time-consuming sport of gymnastics. Through her personal experience and intricate knowledge of the sport, Konner provides evidence-based advice for young gymnasts at every level and continues to mentor young gymnasts and collegiate student-athletes through the ups and downs of the sport of gymnastics. Konner holds a Master's in Public Health (MPH) from the University of California, Davis. She remains active as a competitive CrossFit athlete. She currently lives in Washington, D.C., and works in global public health.
